He'll Kill Me Time.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 24.—The officers at the navy yard are excited and indignant at the action of the captain of the British steamer Sandringham, which was wrecked off Cape Henry beach a few weeks ago. The secretary of the navy gave permission for her to be repaired on the dry dock at the navy yard, and the dock was prepared to receive her, notwithstanding it was needed for one of the vessels belonging to the navy. Yesterday afternoon the Sandringham was placed in the dock, when, without cause, the captain of the Sandringham launched the bitterest abuse upon the American navy, its officers and the flag. The facts were reported to the commandant of the yard in writing, and Commodore Hughes promptly ordered the vessel to be taken from the yard at once. The Sandringham is still afloat in the dock, Commodore Hughes having ordered that no work be done on her till instructions are received from the secretary of the navy.

A Breeze Over Women Printers.

READING, Pa., Nov. 24.—Three young ladies entered the composing rooms of the Reading Eagle, this morning, to learn the printing trade. The thirty male compositors employed at once quit work, and the proprietor, Mr. J. G. Hawley, was told by one of the men that "they quit because it was degrading to work with women at the printing trade." Subsequently the gentleman stated that he meant that "it was degrading for women to work with a lot of men at printing." The compositors then wanted to know whether the intention was to hire more female help, and they were told that that was a matter which very properly only concerned the proprietor himself and depended upon the exigencies. The men then quit work.

The regular meeting of the managers of the home for the friendless will be held at the home on Friday, at 8 P. M. A full attendance is desired.

The Gazette says that Clinton Hall's "Strategists" performed at the Opera house last night. The crowd in attendance supposed the Den Thompson's "Joshua Whitcomb" company held the boards, but of course they were mistaken. The Gazette's article headed thus: "Best of the Season." That's what everybody says of the Clinton Hall company which appeared at the Opera house last night. The Gazette goes on to say: It is an unpleasant duty to criticize any performer or performance, even though they may richly deserve it; but this tendency to class everything and anything in the amusement line as good, renders it more difficult to do justice to a really first class meritorious company and performance, when one happens along. Such a one was that at the opera house last evening."

Running Close to the Brink.

Mr. O. W. Hubbard, of this town, recently narrated these particulars to our reporter: More than two years ago, my wife was attacked with Solitary Rheumatism or p. in the right limb, and it became very severe. Pains would commence in the hip and extend to the knee, and down to the foot. Just as soon as she would retire for the night, it would become far more severe, breaking up her rest, inducing sleeplessness, and making her sick. We employed the best medical help in the city. In the course of medication, a severe attack of bleeding at the nose resulted, lasting about four hours, which nearly cost her life. Nothing produced any permanent benefit. Finally she was induced to try St. Jacobs Oil, and when she had used one fifty-cent bottle of it, she was entirely relieved of the pains and rested quietly and easily. After three months, feeling slight symptoms of the complaint returning, she procured another bottle, using which occasionally, keeps her free from all pain. I would rather pay five dollars a bottle than have her suffer as formerly.—Sparta, (Wis.) Herald.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

TOMORROW being Thanksgiving the agriculture department of THE SENTINEL will be found on the third page of to day's issue.

SOME choice newspaper opinions of the late Governor Williams will be found elsewhere in this issue. They will be found interesting reading.

The frequent meetings of the cabinet do not seem to affect anything of a decisive nature. Meanwhile the weather is without any probabilities.

OWING to a blunder in the Eighth district the votes of that section cannot be counted, as they were not received at the secretary of state's office and thus will the republican plurality be cut down to 3,770.

OWING to the increasing importance of the French possessions in the south sea, the naval station of Tahiti will henceforth consist of a steam transport, dispatch boat and four sailing vessels.

THE latest New York sensation is Escoffier Hillsaps, a Bombay merchant prince, who is come to 'do' our country. He landed from a Liverpool steamer Saturday with his retinue of four wives, a eunuch, a conjurer, snake charmer, and servants. His quite extensive traveling establishment is made up of Hindoos and Mohomedans, and includes a cook for each so that the food of neither may be contaminated by the touch of an infidel.

FREE trade is a topic for discussion in the German empire at present. The merchants of Berlin have sent a petition to Prince Bismarck for the incorporation of Hamburg into Solverein, but it does not represent the unanimous feeling of Hamburg. Notwithstanding this it has served to bring out more clearly the attachment to the traditional free trade policy still entertained by a large portion of the population. A counter demonstration is at hand, with a view to securing to Hamburg for the future the privileges of a free port.

WHEN the republican laborers along the lines of the railroads, or about the city, who made themselves hoarse shouting for good times and Garfield, have their places filled with cheaper labor, they will be able to realize the diameter and circumference of the lies of the campaign, and that the republicans are going to get cheap labor wherever it can be found, whether black or bronze. It is white men who are to be displaced, who may find bread where they can during the winter. It is needless to say no such efforts would have been made before the election, yet the ink is scarcely dry upon the promises of prosperous times and good wages, made by every republican orator and newspaper in the country.

THIS is the opinion of so rank a republican organ as the Toledo Blade of the Hon. John Sherman. Speaking of him it says: "He was never known to give way to an emotion, unless, indeed, it was the result of previous calculation and arrangement and as for romance or feeling he has no more of it than New Hampshire granite." The Blade characterizes him as a "moral refrigerator," and says very unkind things of the secretary with that freedom which arises from the belief that the secretary will not be the dispenser of patronage during the next four years. In this the Blade shows its accustomed bravery in kicking a man when it thinks he is down and cannot kick back.

Annually with the coming of the day, the question is repeated: What is Thanksgiving day, and where did its observance begin? For surely, everything must have its commencement. As often as does this question present itself, in exact proportion is the encyclopedia brought into requisition, and the solution eagerly sought after. For a correct answer to this enigma, an answer embodying all the varied phases of life and the giving of thanks, it is extremely difficult to procure any thing like authority from books, and the records have to be searched for a satisfactory settlement. Some encyclopedias, it is true, are quite profuse in ascribing origins to the day, while others are strangely silent.

Thanksgiving day, now one of the most sacred celebrations in national annals, and a formidable rival to Christmas, is particularly celebrated in New England, although late years have served to give its observance a more comprehensive and wider spread in the western states. The day is suggested by the Hebrew feast of tabernacles, or "feast of ingathering at the end of the year." The occasional observance of the day was not an unusual occurrence in Europe, and we note of its being observed in Holland, on October 3, 1575, the first anniversary of the deliverance of that city from a siege. In 1608 the Pilgrim church, exiled from England, went to Holland, and remained there until it came to our shores in 1620. After the first harvest in 1621, a thanksgiving was held; in July, 1633, thanks were publicly given for successfully passing a season of drought, and history tells us that rain fell even while they were praying. The records in Charlestown, Massachusetts, show a similar observance in 1631, on account of arrival of supplies from Ireland. In 1632 Governor Winthrop, of the then Massachusetts Bay colony, recommended a day of thanksgiving on account of the action of the British council favorable to the colonists. There is a record of the official appointments of thanksgiving in Massachusetts in 1613, 1634, 1637, 1638 and 1639, and in Plymouth in 1651, 1663, 1780, 1689 and 1690. The earlier of these appointments were at different seasons of the year and for different reasons. During the revolution Thanksgiving day was a national institution being annually recommended by congress, but after the general thanksgiving for peace in 1783, there was no national appointment until 1789, when President George Washington made the recommendation. The second thanksgiving proclamation issued by George Washington was in 1790, on account of the suppression of insurrection. President Madison recommended for peace in April, 1815. But the official recommendation of Thanksgiving day was mainly confined to New England, where regular annual proclamations were issued by the governors of the states, and the day was observed as the principal social and home festival of the year. It was not until 1817 that the governor of New York regularly recommended the day, and its adoption in the southern states was much later, so that in 1838 only eight of the southern states observed the day. During the civil war President Lincoln issued proclamations recommending special thanksgiving for victory in 1862 and 1863, and a national proclamation in 1863 and 1864. Since that time custom has fixed the time for the last Thursday in November, and presidential and gubernatorial proclamations are annually issued. To-morrow we have much to be thankful for, and let each one express his gratitude according to his fund of prosperity.

DO YOUR DUTY.

"In the course of human events" it becomes the religious and extraordinary duty of the people of this country to-morrow to knock the stuffing out of the turkey boom. With a liverpad as a buckler, and a keen-edged knife any able-bodied patriot can, single-handed, break the very breast bone of the boom. It is not generally known that, in the days of peril and shortly after John Hancock and his compatriots had put their names to that important piece of sheepskin known as the Declaration of Independence, a hot debate occurred in the colonial congress as to whether the turkey was or was not the emblem of Liberty. It was then stated by several agricultural patriots that in barnyard society the gobbler was simply regarded as an inflated, high-stepping masquerader, whose only ambition was to be the father of a large progeny and lie around for big lunces. Then the advocates of the eagle as the emblem told how this noble bird perched on bare old trees or screamed from lofty peaks, keeping a wary eye for soft-snaps, and living, like a political boss, on the best the farm afforded. By an unanimous vote the turkey was rostered out and the eagle was adopted as the typical bird of Freedom.

In a spirit of dire revenge, Thanksgiving was conceived as a day upon which to make war upon turkey, and as an occasion to rejoice over the boss of the barn yard, and to feed fat the revenge upon the tribe that almost brought disgrace upon the escutcheon of the republic. On this day very little heed is paid to sex, color or previous condition of the turkey intended as a sacrifice. He is taken into the household and into the family without introduction and is made as comfortable as the kitchen range can make him. When properly stuffed and scented with onions and sweet marjoram and sage, a well-developed turkey is worthy of any farmer's steel. There is a charm in the development of the breast; there is a sensuous roundness about the leg that any one can take to, and there is that in his whole composition which the weak spirit of human nature yearns for and reaches after six or seven times during one sitting.

For the past week shockingly fat and completely nude members of the tribe have been hanging out of back windows all over the city to freeze. Very much depends upon this operation, as, not having any teeth or a tail with joints so that his age may be told, it becomes necessary to freeze and thaw him from the toughness of a gum shoe to a state of comparative tenderness. During to-day scores of men and women have been diving into where the nude fowl is kept on sale, poking their fingers into the naked turkeys and pinching the ribs of their breast bones in the hopeless endeavor to discover whether they were born before the war were introduced into this sinful world since fast day. A smart turkey, if he had been educated properly and killed skillfully, will permit himself to be tickled under the ribs and fingered about the chest for a week and never once give away his age. There is where his natural pride comes in. He has always been a beau in the barnyard, and, even in death, though he has lived a thousand years, will look as young and innocent as if he knew no guile and never scratched up an acre of corn to capture one poor angleworm. To-morrow offers a chance to get even with him. Hand over your plate early; hand it over often.

morrow evening, at their lodge-room, on Clinton street.

morrow night, under the auspices of the Sidonia society.

tie King were granted a marriage license this morning.

Councilman-elect Pape, of the Ninth ward, took his seat at the council table, last night.

A local scribber talks about a juvenile thief having "ingeniously denied his theft." What next?

Go to church to-morrow and be thankful. Then go home and eat your turkey with a clear conscience.

The case of Philomena Diddies vs. the Peter's box and lumber company is on trial in the superior court today.

The social of the reformed men's temperance union will be held at their hall this evening. All are in-benefit and relief. Price 25cts. a Frank Falker, esq., has been chosen marshal for the Sidonia party, at Anderson hall, to-morrow evening, and Mr. R. C. Reinwald general manager.

In the Stapleford-Eckert case, before the superior court, a verdict for the defendant was rendered this morning. The jury wrestled with the case until 10 o'clock A. M.

THE SENTINEL predicts that Judge Borden will not interfere in the Hench-O'Rourke matter. The chance of Hench's continuance in office amounts almost to a certainty.

The managers of the Sidonia society social party, to be given to-morrow evening at Anderson hall, will be Messrs. R. C. Reinwald, William Briggeman and H. W. Reinwald.

The bottom has been knocked out of a sensation published the other day in a local paper, which now acknowledges that George Miller, the Goshen man, who alleged that he was robbed the other night by foot pads, is not nor ever has been a guest of the Tremont house.

The Sidonia society will hold their second annual party, at Anderson hall, to-morrow evening. A large attendance is expected. The grand march, to conclude with a waltz, will be led by one of the members of the society, at 8:45, p. m. Supper will be served at Langohr's dining parlors, on Broadway.

The loss to the city by the Morris "secession, is insignificant when compared with the amount that has been paid into the treasury by the Olympic theatre in the past. The amount due the city is $84. The Olympic has paid to the city during its career, over $2,000, in the shape of license fees.

An evening class in book-keeping, and other studies included in a business course, was organized at the Methodist college on Monday evening last, under the direction of Prof.
Addis Albro, principal of the Maumee business college. A large number are in attendance, and many more are expected.

Miss Mattie Leonard, who leaves to-morrow for Iowa City, where she will spend the winter, entertained a large number of her friends, at her residence, in Spy Run avenue, last night. About twenty couples were present, and all enjoyed the proceedings immensely. It was a grand affair.
Supper, dancing and general fun, were the sources of amusement.

AMUSEMENTS.
"THAT BOY."
A more delightful, amusing, elevating and instructive entertainment than was given last evening at the Academy of music, by Dr. J. H.
Vincent, the people of Fort Wayne have not had an opportunity of enjoying since the same talented gentleman appeared here on a former occasion. The crowd in attendance was very large, the vast building being well filled, and the audience comprised the very best people of the city. Dr. Vincent considered "That Boy" from every imaginable standpoint, taking as his several heads, the boy in the cradle, the boy of eight years old, the lad of twelve, and the youth, who considers himself a man, of sixteen summers. Dr. Vincent's style is thoroughly pleasing, his voice is low and clear, his pronunciation perfectly distinct, and his remarks not only intensely interesting but convincing as well. By turns he is humorous and pathetic; raising "from grave to gay, from solemn to severe," now causing a ripple of laughter to pass over the audience, now filling the eyes of his hearers with tears. The lecture was listened to with marked attention throughout, and the only regret expressed was because it was not longer.
Dr. Vincent closed in an eloquent peroration, shortly before 10 o'clock.

"JOSHUA WHITCOMB."
Denman Thompson, supported by a company of only ordinary ability, presented "Joshua Whitcomb" to an unusually large audience at the Grand, last evening. The play is now so thoroughly before the public and has met with such unmistakable favor that little can be said of it other than that it is one of the finest in point of situations and literary merit now on the stage. The company supporting Mr. Thompson this season is far inferior to that which was with him on the occasion of his last appearance here, but the star by his almost phenomenal ability makes up for the inferiority of his support. Julia Wilson as Top, the crossing-sweeper, seems to be degenerating instead of advancing. On her last appearance here, she did far better than last evening. Where it is not for the excellent style in which she sang her "Lullaby," her acting would be indeed very commonplace. She possesses a sweet voice and uses it to excellent advantage. Of the other members of the company, it can only be related that they do their best to please, but the absence of genuine talent is painfully visible in all their movements.

THE STRATEGISTS.
Good fortune often comes from a source least expected, and men are often on the eve of greatest success when they predict for themselves dire failure. This is well illustrated in the case of that sterling reliable actor and favorite with the public, Mr.
Clinton Hall, who made a famous reputation last season as Jack Rutledge, in the "Strategists." The Philadelphia Star says of Mr. Hall: "His success was immediate, complete and incontestable, and the piece bids fair to have as long and prosperous a run as Southern's Dundreary or Raymond's Colonel Sellers." Clinton Hall's "Strategists" will appear at the Grand opera house, Fort Wayne, next Wednesday evening. A leading newspaper says of the troupe:

These prime favorites of the public, Mr. Chas. S. Rogers and Chas. R.
Gardner, are engaged for important roles in Clinton Hall's specialty comedy, "The Strategists," this season.
Mr. Rogers, in his imitations of all the great actors, stands without a rival, while Mr. Gardner has no superior and stands to-day the acknowledged rival in his Dutch specialties of that great Dutch comedian, J. K. Eu-met. Such a company of eminent specialty artists as Mr. Hall has collected together cannot help but do an immense business and give complete satisfaction.

"WIDOW BEDOTT." This grand success, the work of the great "Petroleum V. Nasby" (D. R.
Locke) with improvements introduced by Neil Burgess, will be presented at the Opera house next Monday evening. All good citizens who can enjoy a hearty laugh without dislocating their vitals, should go and see and hear "the widder." Those who are afraid of straining or otherwise injuring themselves by excess of laughter, should carefully avoid the Opera house on Monday night. The New York Mail says: The farcical comedy which Burgess has made of the "Widow Bedott Papers," is an extremely laughable piece, and the leading character is portrayed by Neil Burgess in so lively a manner, and with so keen an appreciation of the possibilities and requirements of the part, that it is made one of the best stage pictures of the sort that we have ever seen. The farce is essentially a "one part piece," but so unfailing are Mr. Burgess' resources of fun, and so full are the lines of the Widow crowded with comical sayings and humorous parage-phs, that the audience is never without something to laugh at, and the comical situations are absurd and amusing.
The adaptor and actor may congratulate himself on having made a "hit" in this city. A matinee occurs tomorrow—Mail.

"TRISON LIFE."
Mr. C. D. Hildbrand, the reformed reprobate, will deliver a lecture on the above subject, illustrated by panoramic views, painted on canvas, at the Academy of Music, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings.

STARS WHISKEYS.
Remember the widder—Bedott and Glase.

The Chicago Times is to have a theatrical correspondent here. Such an arrangement is badly needed.

Five hundred dollars a week will be Mr. O'Neill's salary for the impersonation of Christ in "The Passion Play."

Mojeska made a great success in London as "Mary Stuart." Gladstone and his son Herbert attended the opening.

Lotta has a case in court against a Fall River, Mass., cotton broker over a sum of money which she once invested in cotton speculation.

"Empty in the Cradle, Baby's Gone," is the title of the latest serioidiotic song. It will probably be followed by "Empty in the Bottle, Papa's Full."

"Give the wicked Bernhardt a wide berth!" cries an exchange.
Wait for? She can get along with a narrow one. Give the wide berth to David Davis.

Emma Abbott wipes away the terrible sin of appearing in the wicked role of "Maugerite" by responding to the encores for the "Jewel Song" with "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

Neil Burgess wrote a gushing letter to Sara Bernhardt, complimenting her on her New York success, and adding, "Us women are such awful mashers, you know—Timothy x, 16."

The public will be sorry to learn that, on account of a throat difficulty, Miss Princess Clark has been compelled to resign the role of Irene Latimer in Butterfield's new opera to be produced in this city soon.

Adelina Patti hates England.
She says: "It is a country where you can neither hunt nor sing, nor do anything you wish, and I have but one idea—to sell my property and get away from it forever, as quick as I can."

The Baptist Ministers of New York are coming down heavy on the "Passion-Play" which will be produced in that city soon. At a recent meeting of the Pastoral Conference a resolution was adopted as follows: That, as a conference, we protest against the sacrilegious use of the most sacred text of our religion.

THE NEXT QUESTION.
How It Affects Workingmen.

The Fort Wayne Gazette, of last Friday, contained a communication by one L. F. Cartwright, in which the writer took occasion to cast some aspersions on Councilman Wolf. The communication in question states that Mr. Wolf "succeeded in getting a bill passed keeping all stock dealers from selling meat by the quarter on the street, and thus depriving the workingmen of the benefit of the difference of buying meat by the quarter or by the pound."

Mr. Wolf called at THE SENTINEL office yesterday and laid the following facts before us. In the first place, the "meat ordinance" was passed before Mr. Wolf became a member of the council, and never has been brought up, argued or discussed before him or by him. In the next instance the ordinance does not interfere with the selling of meat in a legitimate manner. It simply prohibits selling on the street, but in this case, Mr. Cartwright has the same rights and privileges that a city dealer has. He should have no more, in fact, as he pays no city license, if any discrimination was to be made it should be to favor the city butcher. Fort Wayne has a market house, and there all meat sellers must dispose of their stock, and because Mr. Cartwright desires to sneak away from other dealers and ply his vocation on the streets, is no reason such a hubbub should be raised and the interest of the workingmen outraged by such an attempt to mislead.

POLICE COURT.
Mayor Zollinger Presiding.
WEDNESDAY, Nov. 24.

Armand Waterlie, drunk, fined $5 and costs.

Jacob Sterfior, drunk, $1 and costs.

George Falls, a boy, $3 and costs.

When this fine was imposed, little George burst out crying, and the tears had the desired effect of softening the worthy mayor's heart. The fine was remitted, but George was told that if he made any more falls in the future, he should be severely dealt with.

PERSONAL MENTION.
—Mr. Henry Hitzman, the popular grocer, is still confined to his house.

—Mr. Charles Melville, advance agent of the "Strategists," is in the city completing arrangements for their appearance in this city on Wednesday evening, December 1.

Menasha, Wisconsin, Press.
In conversation recently with A.
Granger, esq., of this city, that gentleman responded to a question by our informant as follows: As proprietor of the "bus line" of this city, I have used St. Jacobs Oil on my horses with decided success, and can cheerfully recommend it to all stablemen and owners of horses, wishing a safe and sure liniment. Have also used the Oil in my family and find it equally as effective there.

THE RAILROADS.
Local, General and Personal Notes.

The Wabash-Pacific railway company's directors will not meet for the purpose of voting upon a stock dividend until some time in January.

An idea of the immense traffic now moving over the New York Central may be gained from the fact that one day last week 5,810 cars passed through Rochester, N. Y., east and west, in twenty-four hours.

The bridge across the Wabash river, on the Bedford and Effingham narrow-gauge railway will be completed this week. A few days' work will connect the track at Swift City, and in a very short time trains will run thru' from Indianapolis to Effingham.

It is thought that the whole line will be placed under the management of Superintendent J. W. Kennedy, of the Bedford and Bloomfield railway.
It certainly could be placed in no better hands.

Last week a charter was issued at the state department to the Buffalo, Cleveland and Chicago railroad company of Pennsylvania, Clarence H.
Clark, of Philadelphia, as president.

The new road crosses Erie county from the New York state line to the Ohio state line. The capital stock is $500,000 and the length of road 45 miles. It is said to be designed as a connecting link of a new western line in opposition to Vanderbilt's New York Central line, and to extend the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road to Chicago.

Nine out of Ten
"Nine men out of ten neither hold nor expect an office; yet the nine allow themselves to be used by the tenth so that he may hold an office."

This is the whole secret of the persistence of non-political parties, in spite of their habitual subordination of public weal to public plunder. To break down this spoils partyism is the highest aim of the best friends of honorable party government. To that end, the increase of independence of the individual in politics is the first and most efficient step. New
